FABER FANCIES.

—Arbor Day. Plant your little trees.

—That April shower was quite refreshing.

—District No. 2, of Grayling township, is building a new school house.

—Mr. J. C. Goodale bid adieu to Grayling and departed for Chesaning, Monday last.

—Rev. Wm. Putnam left on Monday of this week for a brief visit to Mason, the home of his family.

—Mr. E. T. Buck has moved back on to his homestead, and is going to agriculture immense this Summer.

—Now is the time to curry-comb your gardens, brush up the front and back yards, and pulverize the soil for family sauce.

—Mr. Geo. Fauble, of Grove, reports having seen a coal black deer while strolling over a section of land in that town recently.

—How do you expect a man to keep his head from bobbin' at Church when he was bobbin' for fish all the previous night, eh?

—The April term of Circuit Court for this county has been adjourned till next November, by order of Circuit Judge, Sanford M. Green.

—Down in Ohio they hunt fish and shoot 'em with a gun, while up here we just punn' 'em with a good spear, and fry 'em.

—Mr. J. Maurice Finn has recently received the appointment of Deputy Clerk and Register of Deeds, for Crawl-ford County. See card elsewhere.

—The sentence of one year at Jackson prison was meted out to James Ireland, the Otsego county embezzler, at the term of Circuit Court for that county on Friday last.

—Salling, Hanson & Co. are just in receipt of a carload of Grand Rapids Plaster, which is to be sold at rock-bottom prices, for cash. Gee-up, farmers, and take on a few hundred.

—Mr. E. E. Raze, alias Edward Gillett, of Grove, was in town on Tuesday “proving up,” and was accompanied by Messrs. Willey, Funk, and Asterman, as witnesses.

—The little streaked, ring-tailed and speckled snakes are daily seen sunning themselves about the old logs and stumps around the county. Beware of 'em!

—The forepart of this month, as has already been chronicled, the thermometer registered 60 below zero, while on Sunday last, just 22 days later, it stood at 80° above in the shade! Will some one please fan us?

—Our young laddies and Misses are jubilant now, since the warm wave struck Grayling, and the patter of the little bare feet over the sidewalks is now an established sound.

—The Sunday School in district No.
5, Grove township, which had to suspend for a couple of months on account of the snow, resumed the Masters work on last Sabbath, with a good attendance.

—The Township Superintendent of Schools, of the Township of Grayling, will hold a meeting for the examination of teachers, at the School House in Grayling, on Saturday, May 14th, 1881.

—Messrs. Jones and Hopple, while at Portage lake fishing last Saturday, caught a prize in the shape of a huge turtle weighing about 35 pounds, and will now regale themselves with soup dinner.

—Mr. Chas. Frantz received four packages of seeds through the mail on Monday last, from a brother in Germany, and we're going out to Charles next Summer, too, and don't you forget it!

—A young lawyer, Mr. Swarthout, of Saginaw City, is in town this week prospecting for a desirable location in which to wrestle with law lore. We hope he may be induced to peel his coat and try Grayling a bout or two!

—The members of the Good Templars Lodge of Grayling, are urgently requested to be present at the next regular meeting on Saturday evening, as business of vital importance will necessarily come before the Lodge.

Mrs. T. W. MITCHELL, Sec'y.

—Mr. Thatcher, the dentist, has now got his clothes dry from his maiden effort at log-running, and goes back to Bay City to meditate on the uncer-tainities of such business. Howsome-ever, he had the satisfaction of yank-ing out lots of teeth for our afflicted citizens.

—The following subscriptions to the AVALANCHE were received during the past week: C. F. B. Haskell, Gaylord; W. R. Kendrick, East Saginaw; Miss Frank Stewart, Grayling; Wm. Lutz, Roseomon; James Duryee, Pere Cheney; and Henry Ball, of Ball township.

—Quigley and Jersey, have been finishing out the house just east of Post's Hotel, in the rear of the lots on which J. C. Goodale's store stood. J. C.
Goodale will occupy the house when he moves to this place from Grayling, which he expects to do soon. —Chesaning Argus.

—Ho! for Oregon! Or which is it?

—Our fishermen now-a-days are having heaps of fun with the finny tribes, and never fail in getting good messes and sometimes a setting when busy try. Messrs. Wm. Jones and H. Hop-ple, secured 150 pounds on Saturday night last, at Portage lake, mostly pickeree, one of which weighed 15 lbs.

—Only some three weeks now since the sleighs and bobs were hung up from active service, and now our farmers are busy plowing and making ready for Spring and Summer crops, some even having gardens made. How does this compare with Southern Michigan?

—We see by the Agamemnon Herald that Rev. E. E. Hall, formerly of Grayling, has purchased for $700 a building and lot, in West Branch, of G. D. Dunlap, also a former resident of Grayling, and is to engage in the meat market business, while Mr. Dunlap takes his family and hires him to Oregon.

—Rev. S. Edgcomb returned from his little visit to Lenawee county last Saturday, and reports a good time spent, but very much regrets the loss of his hat and umbrella, at the fire, while absent, as it will necessitate his retirement to the ante-room when it rains.

—Although we didn't witness the nuptialistic ceremonies on Thursday last, we did witness some of the pound and mashed cake, just the same, and pronounced it choice, and very palatable, and for which the fair donor has our tasteful thanks.

—That ice cream and sugar festival at the Hall on Friday evening last, was a decided success financially, and otherwise, and would have been even more so, had the ice cream held out till the last lover was served; as it was, the gross receipts were something in excess of $23. Give us another one with heaps of cream.

—It is rumored that a great many apple, peach, plum, pear, cherry, and other fruit trees have been winter killed “out side,” and our farmers up here in looking over and taking count of stock, and once in a while one in the same fix. If we were only a little farther North, guess we could have saved 'em all!

—To the ladies of the Baptist Church of Grayling, and those who have kindly helped them, I am most gratefully indebted for the unexpected gift presented me on the eve of my short visit home, I can assure all that it is not only very welcome, but fully appreciated, more as a token of kindly regard, than even its intrinsic value, which is not small.

WM. PUTNAM.

—The west side of the Grayling Hill was badly pelted by the late hotel fire, and about $65 is thought to be sufficient to make it good, which will probably be paid by the Home Insurance Company, of N. Y., a relable company, and represented in this section by C. L. Fuller, of Gaylord.

—Mr. J. M. Jones, our under Sheriff, has transferred his desirable house and lot in this village to John S. and C.
W. Harder, for the consideration of $600.00. As soon as the tenant, Mr.
Wm. A. Masters, vacates, Mr. Harder & Son will immediately commence improvements by additional building, in readiness to accommodate guests and all desiring board by the day, week, or month.

—NOTICE.—I will hold a Public Examination at the Hyde School House, in district No. 3, Grove Township, on Saturday next the 30th inst., 1:30 P. M., for the benefit of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of the above mentioned township.

H. C. MCKINLEY,
Supt. of Schools for Grove.

—On Tuesday last, a large chicken hawk which was soaring aloft, was seen to descend with wonderful swiftness and seize a young dove in its talons, in the vicinity of the depot, and make off toward the Court House, near which it alighted to enjoy a feast; but H. Lampert had his “game” eye on the bird of prey, and took down his little gun and shot the feaster there and then, and strange to say, the dove flew away, but subsequently died, though not from the shot as none struck it, but from injuries he had sustained. —Oh! what a cruel bird was he to Tommy-hawk a dove.

—With this issue, closes the second year of the AVALANCHE, and, young as it is, it has had the little drawbacks that almost invariably befalls the country paper. The AVALANCHE, like most all other papers, is a business enterprise; yet we realize we are not making money out of it; but the needs of the County demand it, and it will henceforth be run in the interests of the people, or as long as we are at the helm, and will contain each week such matters of local interest as shall seem to the writer to be of importance to the people of Crawford County.

—We received a brief call on Tuesday of this week from our friend W.
R. Kendrick, of East Saginaw, who was on his way home from attendance at the Circuit Court in Otsego county, where he was employed on the James Ireland case, and one or two other important suits, and won many encouraging words of praise for his able counsel and argument. Mr. Kendrick is a rising young lawyer of acknowledged ability, and has recently associated himself with Mr. L. C. Holden, of Saginaw, a lawyer of good practice and great repute, and is also co-partner with lawyer J. O. Hadley, of this village.

Correspondence.

South Branch, April 18th, 1881.

Editor Avalanche.—Well, James, I done gone and got married, and the reason I say so is because I was there myself. There came a little billet-doux to our house, and it was headed with my name, and I knew I was the one needed; so you can just put it down that I didn't let such a chance slip, so I just took a bye-line for the town of Grove last Thursday at 10 o'clock, so as to be sure and not miss a note, and I didn't, either. Well, things looked mighty nice to me, for when I got there the table was set and loaded with all you could wish for, and now you can just rest assured I done justice to that part of the affair. I also had the honor of escorting the two most interested to the place where the knot was tied.

Well, you ought to be of been there, for just then I wished I was half as young as used to be, and that is all I remember.

Z.

Ball Township, April 22d, 1881.

Editor Avalanche.—I suppose you would like to hear from this part of the county, and learn that we are among the living yet, and that the snow is ebbing away slowly, but surely, with mother earth peeping through here and there, which we smile to see.

—We have some good things to tell about this God forsaken (N) country.
We have some as fine looking wheat in this town as you can find in Michigan.
Mr. L. B. Fletcher has about six acres of clover, as fine as you ever saw, and it looks nice and green; he has got some nice looking rye, too. He also lately took the job of building our new school house, and which he expects to have completed soon.

—It is a very busy time for your correspondent just now, and will make all due amends for short-comings next time.

I send you two new subscribers to the AVALANCHE, which is eagerly looked for every week.

WM. RAWLINS.

Editor Avalanche.—Please give space in the AVALANCHE to congratulate Mr.
& Mrs. E. E. Kuok, upon the new advent that took place at their residence in Grove, the 21st inst., viz: the marriage of their daughter Lizzie M., to Mr. James B. Buckley. Being an invited guest, I can truly say the occasion was one long to be remembered by the many friends of the family present. Rev. Benj. Reeve officiated, and the whole affair passed off in a very quiet way. The dinner was all the most skeptical epicure could wish. We predict for Lizzie a life of happiness, and as for James, he is a nice young man; one worthy of the trust confided in him by the fond parents of this bride, and if blessed with health, we hope to see them prosper in the future, and we wish them God-speed.

JUDGE WALDRON.

Editor Avalanche.—Allow me a little space in your valuable paper in order to give to the public a little experience in high life in the village of Pere Cheney. Not belonging to the long village, or having a sonorous voice, we sometimes indulge in terpsichorean pleasures, and having a ticket placed in our hands to attend a party at the Hutt House on the 15th inst., we got ourselves in readiness and in due season we found ourselves there with our expectations very high, having attended a number of parties at that place, and our anticipations fully realized in reference to a good time for all, but am sorry to say the first thing we met on entering the house was a drunken landlord, and upon making the acquaintance of the landlady we found her to drunk to be civil, too; but not being easily bluffed off, we made up our minds we could stand it, if anybody could, but we got more than we bargained for.

—While they were eating their six o'clock supper, there was a noise heard in the kitchen, and a young lady ran out of her room in time to see the landlady fall to the floor from receiving a blow from the fist of her drunken husband, which opened the ball for the night. Later in the evening people coming in were allowed to wait upon themselves, the landlady being engaged in the back room where she presided over a jug of tangle-leg, which seemed to be the fountain of youth to her and her husband; however, we went to the ball room, but in consequence of bad roads there were but few out. Thinking we would wait until a larger crowd collected, we again went to the barroom where we found the landlord cursing and insulting those who did not feel inclined to engage in the dance. Fearing we might get a revenue stamp put on us we left the house for an hour or so to recruit our muscles, and be ready for battle if our number was called.

Dancing commenced at 8 o'clock and the house was in a general uproar from that on. At 11 o'clock we began to talk about supper, but the house was too drunk to prepare to the ladies (God bless them), who came to be waited upon, went into the kitchen, and dining room and soon had a supper in readiness that many better houses might boast of. There was no way of reaching home before morning, we made up our minds to make a night of it, but as morning approached the house became drunker, consequently they turned the guests into the street to look elsewhere for breakfast.

VISITOR.

Pere Cheney, April 20th, 1881.

Editor Avalanche.—The beautiful has all disappeared, and the people are now busily engaged in making garden and sowing their Spring wheat.

Mrs. Ackerman is visiting friends in Bay City, and Criss is getting awful lonesome, but thinks he can endure it another week.

About twenty-five of our citizens had a very pleasant time eating sugar, at Ray C. Wood's, on Tuesday evening of last week, the proceeds of which are to be used in building a parsonage at this place.

S. Hutt, and agent Connine are putting up a telephone, which will add very much to the business facilities of the two gentlemen.

A neekie social will be given at Wm.
Rickers, on Tuesday evening of next week, to which everybody is invited.

D. E. C.

FREDERICVILLE, April 26, 1881.

Editor Avalanche.—The days and weekers slip by, and daily things are assuming more the appearance of Spring. The weather has been beautiful. The month of April as far as the present, has been nearly a continuous round of sunshine. “April showers” have slighted us, and we fear “May flowers” may also slight us.

Sap does not run as freely as sugar makers would like to see it, and it is feared maple syrup and sugar may be scarce this season.

Farmers are busy preparing for their Spring work, and their wives and daughters are ransacking the old coffer pots and other receptacles where flower and garden seeds have been stored for safety during the long winter months.

House cleaning is in order, and now we stop on the door-step and look cautiously inside before venturing to set foot on the well scrubbed floor.

The school house is donning a whiter coat, but the work of completing the building seems to progress quite slowly.

The millwright has not yet arrived to superintend the putting up of the machinery of Messrs. Chamberlains mill.

Several are preparing to build as soon as they can get lumber at the new mill.

Freeman Ensign is about to take up his abode with us, having traded farms with Rufus Edmunds of this place.

David Ward, of Detroit, was one of the arrivals on the afternoon train, one day this week. He is looking after his interests all along this line of road.

J. S. McMullen & Co., who suspended their lumbering operations on account of the snow, are again in full blast, and as soon as the snow gets off will begin shipping their logs. S. O.
Fisher, of West Bay City, is the purchaser of their logs.

MARRIED.

BUCKLEY—KUCK.—In the township of Grove on the 21st inst., by Rev. Benj. Reeve, Mr. James B. Buckley, and Miss Lizzie M. Kuok, all of Grove.

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION.

State of Michigan, Eleventh Judicial Circuit: In Chancery. Subscribed in the Circuit Court for the County of Crawford, in Chancery, at the Court House in Grayling, in said County, on the 15th day of February, A. D. 1881, between Laura M. Moreau, Complainant, vs. William M.
Moreau, Defendant.

It appearing satisfactorily by affidavit, that William M. Moreau, the defendant above named, is not a resident of this State, but a resident of the State of Illinois. On motion of J. O. Hadley, solicitor for the said complainant, it is ordered, that the said William M. Moreau cause his appearance to be entered in this cause, and answer thereto to be served on the complainant's solicitor, within thirty days from the date of this order, and in default thereof, that the said bill may be taken as confessed by the said defendant.

And it is further ordered that within thirty days the said complainant cause this order to be published in the Crawford County Avalanche, a weekly newspaper printed and published in the said County of Crawford, and that the said publication be continued therein for six successive weeks; or that a copy of this order be personally served upon the said William M. Moreau, at least seven days before the time prescribed for his appearance.

S. M. GREEN,
Circuit Judge.

DEBATE ORDER.

State of Michigan, County of Crawford, ss.
At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Crawford, holden at the Probate Office, in the village of Grayling, on Tuesday, the fifth day of April in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one.

Present, Adelbert Taylor, Judge of Probate, and the Honorable the Estate of John Costello, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Charles D. Vincent, praying for license to sell the real estate of said Estate, to pay debts and expenses of administering the said Estate.

Thereupon it is ordered that Monday, the 9th day of May, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that there be at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, be required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be held at the Probate Office in the village of Grayling, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

And it is further ordered, that said petitioner cause a copy of this order to be published in the Crawford County Avalanche, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County of Crawford, for four successive weeks; and

THE FARMER FEDETH ALL.

My lord rides through the palace gate, My lady sweeps along in state,
The sage thinks long on many a thing,
And the maiden nuzzles on marriage;
The minister harpeth merrily, The sailor plies the foaming sea,
The huntman kills the good red deer,
And the soldier wears without a fear.
But fall to each what'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

South hammereth chertily the sword, Fisteth preseth both pure and bold, Dulleth Allice worketh broderly well, Oleth Richard tales of love can tell,
The tap-wife sells her foaming beer, Dan Fisher fishes in the mere,
And fouriers cuffeth what'er shall,
And dourers smelteth what'er shall.

Men, bards his castles fair and high, Whate'er ruin runneth by,
Great dices rise in every land, Great churches show the builder's hand, Great palaces and pleasing bowers, Great work in stone, be't here and there,
And well men seeketh every man, But work or rest, whate'er befall,
The farmer he must feed them all.

—Charles O. Leland.

A BRAVE ACT.

Among the many frontier army posts is one known as Camp McDermitt, in Nevada, located upon the stage-road from Winnemucca to Boise City, and distant some eighty miles from the line of the Central Pacific railroad.

It is near the mouth of a little ravine in the very heart of the Winnemucca hunting-grounds, and the Indians of that tribe, governed by a chieftain of the same name, made their headquarters at the time of this occurrence within a mile of camp upon a small stream.

Peace reigned, and the red men, with their squaws and papooses, were accustomed to make tri-weekly visits to the camp for the purpose of receiving from the quartermaster the rations allowed them by Uncle Sam, of bread and meat.

The usual force at the post was about sixty men, and in 1889, a single company of cavalry, commanded by one Capt. Wagner, was in occupation of McDermitt. The other officers of the company were Lieut. Nemo, a young man, and the surgeon.

Winnemucca, Chief of the Indians, was the father of a daughter who possessed wonderful beauty and a fine mind. Desiring to fit her for a position in civilization, rather than savage life, the sachem had sent her to San Francisco, where she had received a thorough education.

Returning to her father, she had obtained for her, through the assistance of his many friends among the whites, the position of interpreter at McDermitt. In 1889, she was stationed at that post in quarters of her own, a well-dressed, handsome woman of about 23 years of age, receiving a monthly salary of $40 in gold.

With all the arts of her wily nature the girl sought to win the affections of the only bachelor officer in camp, whom we will call Lieut. Nemo, and within two months the young fellow openly avowed his intention of making Sarah Winnemucca his wife.

His Captain, as became him, argued against this strange mesalliance, but, finding Nemo thoroughly in earnest, and waiting only for some passing minister to tie the nuptial knot, he dropped the matter, and would have given it no further thought had not his attention been shortly thereafter called to it in a new and startling way.

While the lovers yet awaited the coming of a minister, the wife of the sutler, whose store was just without the limits of camp, informed Capt. Wagner that she had discovered a plot among the Winnemuccas to murder the garrison, seek the post, announce Sarah Winnemucca as their Queen, and begin a war of extermination against the whites throughout all the plain country—and Lieut. Nemo, carried away by his infatuation for the Indian girl, had agreed to join the savages.

So monstrous was the story that at first the Captain refused to believe it, but in hurried, frightened whispers the sutler's wife told him that she had overheard the plan discussed by the Lieutenant with some warriors beneath the store-window the evening before, and at last the officer was forced to admit that the danger actually existed.

"When will this plan be put into execution?" asked Wagner.

"To-night, at moonrise!" returned the sutler. "I dared not go to your quarters, sir, to tell you of it, but had to wait until you came here. The Lieutenant is on duty, you know. He will call in the sentinel, house the guard, spike the howitzer, and then the Indians will come!"

To-night!—and it was already dark! The commander's voice was steady as he remarked, "Very well. We will be ready for them. Show no signs of fear, but keep within doors after dark, and be ready to fly, if necessary. Speak to no one of what you have told me."

Then, unconcernedly smoking, he left the store and proceeded toward camp. Supper was over, and some of the men were lounging about the parade-ground as the Captain entered.

Quietly calling a trusty corporal to his side, he said:

"After guard is placed, and just before moonrise, which is at 11, take four men, with their arms, and go to the stables. Close the doors and remain until morning. Open to no one, but myself. Do not communicate your duty to any except those whom you take with you."

The man touched his hat and moved away. This was to prevent the false Lieutenant from stealing the horses, should he choose to attempt it, instead of capturing them. Then the Captain passed on to his own quarters.

Three hours fled—9, 10, 11. In fifteen minutes the moon would rise. The sentinel was "off duty," and the guard all within doors. Not a living creature was to be seen, and the cold starlight fell upon as solitary a group of adobe buildings as if the post had been deserted for years.

Suddenly, however, a single figure appeared. In full uniform, with sword and pistol-holster at his waist, Capt. Wagner emerged from his door, and, silently crossing the parade-ground, turned with rapid tread down the stage-road toward the Winnemucca camp.

The distance was short, and, just as the first rays of the rising moon tinged with spectral white the dark carpet of sage-brush that covered all the plain, the officer found himself upon a slight eminence overlooking the teepee huts of the Indians.

This was the sight which met his eyes. Around a council-fire were gathered the chieftain and warriors of the tribe, all arrayed in war-paint, and fully armed, and in the midst, upon a pile of blankets, stood Lieut. Nemo, his sword drawn, his arms outstretched, his head bare, evidently engaged in the delivery of a stirring address to the savages about him!

Wagner's heart leaped within him. Drawing his own sword, he hastened forward, quickly passed the line of squaws without the circle, and, before the Indians had the slightest thought of his presence, burst through their ranks, and appeared alone in their very midst!

So great was the astonishment of the braves that no one moved or spoke, and old Winnemucca, even, bowed in token of fealty to the army blue of the officer. The Captain, however, did not notice him, but, advancing until directly in front of the dazed Nemo, he cried in ringing tones, "Sir, I demand your sword!"

As if in a strange dream, the Lieutenant slowly extended his weapon toward his officer. The latter took it from his hand, and, breaking it, threw the pieces upon the ground.

"You are under arrest! March, before me to camp!" he said; then, turning quickly toward the astounded Indians, in threatening voice he continued:

"The man who moves dies! Beware of the carbines in the sage-brush behind you! Winnemucca, treacherous chief! I command you to appear before me to-morrow!"

With these words, driving Nemo before him, the brave Captain retired from the circle, and disappeared along the road toward camp, while, after a little, the savages, thoroughly frightened, crept quietly to their huts, regarding with suspicious glances the shadows of the sage about them; the council-fire was extinguished, and night and silence again reigned.

The revolt was at an end, and scores of lives saved by the quick wit and wonderful nerve of a single man.

Sarah Winnemucca afterward married Nemo, who was simply dismissed the service as "crazy." The old chief and certain of his warriors were sent to the presidio dungeons at San Francisco for a time.

The uprising at McDermitt soon became mere matter of army rumor; but had the officer in command proven less able to cope with the dangers of the hour, that rumor would have been history written in letters of blood, even as the history of the terrible Modoc war, or Custer's fateful campaign.—Youth's Companion.

FEELING OF THE MARKET.

"Guess I won't take in the school to-day," said a Carson urchin, with an Appeal in his hand.

"Why not?"

"Concordia has fallen off 10 cents, and I don't dare to show up until it picks up again."

"What have the fluctuations of Concordia got to do with your studies?"

"A good deal," answered the boy. "My teacher has 100 shares of the stock, and when it falls off a few cents we all catch it heavy. I keep my eye on the list, and when there's a break you bet I don't go to school. I play sick. Golly how she busted me the time Mount Diablo busted down to $2."—When it was selling at $20 she was as good as pie, I was the first feller that got out on the break, and I told the boys of my class that if she didn't well there'd be the devil to pay. I heard Uncle Fraser say it was a good stock, and I never slept a wink for a week. I grabbed the Appeal the first thing every morning, and when I saw her keel down to $16 I skipped to the hills. Lord, how sir did bang Johnny Dobson round that morning! I was in hopes that the blasted mine would pick up, but the water got in the lower levels, and I knew we were in for it. She licked somebody for every dollar it dropped. After it struck $8 it picked up a little, and we had time to get well. My mother's been patolin' my pants now ever since the big break in Sierra Nevada, and if the market don't take a turn pretty soon I'm goin' to quit the public school and go to work on a ranch."—Carson City Appeal.

OBITUARY.

Lord Deaconsfield.

The Earl of Deaconsfield, England's most brilliant statesman and diplomat, expired at his home in London on the morning of Tuesday, April 19, after a long and painful illness.

Benjamin Disraeli was the son of Isaac Disraeli, an Irish author, a descendant of a family of Spanish Jews, and (Benjamin) was born at Lexington, London, in 1804. After an education at a private school, he was placed in an attorney's office, where he continued for some time as a preparation to an appointment in the Government office, which, however, he did not obtain. In 1829 he became a contributor to a paper started in the Tory interests, and called the Representative. This paper lived only five months, but succeeded to have had some effect upon the mind of Mr. Disraeli, in so far as to give it a political bias.

In 1832 appeared his novel of "Vivian Grey," which was a humorous and satirical account of the life of a politician. He was elected to Parliament in 1835, and in 1839 he was elected to the House of Commons. He was a member of the House of Commons from 1835 to 1852, and in 1852 he was elected to the House of Lords. He was a member of the House of Lords from 1852 to 1869, and in 1869 he was elected to the House of Commons. Both parties in the Senate appeared determined to continue the deadlock indefinitely, as no compromise was offered on Monday April 10.

Mr. Brockwell, a member of the Democratic party, after ten years of opposition to the Reconstruction bill, has been elected to the Senate.

The Senate on Tuesday, April 10, 1882, declared that the public interest requires Congress to be convened immediately. In support of the resolution, Mr. Hilditch stated that a recent decision of the United States Supreme Court meant the ruin of the brewery and knit-goods industries of New England unless amendatory protective legislation covering that point is adopted. He also urged in favor of his resolution the necessity of Congress taking action on the De Lescaups canal. The deadlock continued throughout the day, with no prospect of a break. The President nominally gave the Senate the right to adjourn, but he refused to do so.

The time of the Senate was mainly occupied on Wednesday, April 10, by a discussion between Messrs. Davis and Jones as to whether Massachusetts or Louisiana was most free from crime; a speech from Senator Fry, in which he attacked the Democrats for knowingly aiding the reconstruction bill; and a speech from Senator Davis, in which he defended the bill.

Senator Davis, during his hour, repeatedly, and clearly and emphatically stated that Butler's contention that there was corrupt bargain between Mahone and the Republicans was false; and the usual remark was made that Butler's contention was without any business. G. of Pennsylvania, Third Assistant Postmaster General, vice A. D. Hixon, appointed Assistant Attorney General, vice J. H. Hixon, resigned; and George H. Hixon, of North Carolina, vice W. H. Wheeler.

There was the usual waste of time in the Senate on the 11th inst., and more than the average number of petty wrangles. Messrs. Davis and Jones had a discussion with Call about the freedom of voters in Massachusetts; Davis had a dispute with Sanbury on some trivial matter; and Wade Hampton and Jones gloried their sections. No business of any kind was done.

There was another day of heavy debate in the Senate on Friday, April 12, and at its close an adjournment was taken until Tuesday, partly to enable Senators who live near Washington to transact necessary business, partly to permit the Republicans to have a private conference, and nominally to give the Senate an opportunity to be present at the funeral of a Senator who died in the morning.

An incendiary fire destroyed one of the principal business blocks at Meriden, Conn. The total loss is estimated at $250,000; the insurance is about half that amount.

[From the New Albany Ledger-Standard.]
[Speaking of Governor, suggests the mention of an item we received from Mr. Henry A. Knight, formerly at China, Waters & Co's. Governor and Walter H. Knight, of Boston, Mass., have died. St. Jacob Oil among our employees and find that it never fails to cure. The men are delighted with the wonderful effects of the Oil, as it has cured them of bruises, burns, etc.]

THE MALE OLD AGE INSCRIBED TO NATURE.

Lorenzo A. Pickles, of Newburg, near Rochester, peddles trees throughout Western New York. He is 70 years old, and measures 6 feet 6 inches in height. He has thirteen sisters and eight brothers, and he is the smallest of the entire family. One brother, who lives in Kentucky, is 7 feet 2 inches in height, and weighs 275 pounds, although he is spare in flesh. The little sister is 6 feet 5 inches tall. The family is scattered, no two living in the same State.

Lorenzo Pickles has the appearance of a man of 40. He never wears a coat, and goes without stockings winter and summer. He has two pupils in each eye. To distinguish objects close by, Mr. Pickles uses powerful magnifying glasses. He can read print and see things at a greater distance, without the aid of glasses, than it is possible for persons with the natural eye to see.

He never tasted liquor of any kind in his life, and never drinks water. Three small cups of tea a day, winter and summer, suffice to quench Mr. Pickles' thirst. He never eats fresh meat. His chief article of diet is salt pork, although he likes salt meats and fish. He eats two table-spoonsful of salt every day, and prefers salt to sugar in his tea. Pie and cake or sweetmeats of any kind he never tasted. He says he believes his hale and healthy condition is due mainly to the salt he uses. Mr. Pickles is a widower, but he has two daughters. One is 17 years old, the other 12. The oldest is 6 feet and one-half inch tall. The youngest is 5 feet 9 inches, and their father says they are still growing.

[From the Elgin (Ill.) Daily Leader.]

Tim subjoined opinion we perceive is by J. A. Daniels, Esq. of Elgin. Stogdill & Daniels, attorneys, La Crosse, Wis., and appears in the La Crosse Chronicle. Some time since I was attacked with pain in and below one of my knees. A few applications of St. Jacob Oil quieted the pain, and relieved the inflammation. I regard it as a valuable medicine.

HOW HIGH THAT PIN WENT.

Mr. J. Bird, of this place, who is about 70 years of age, and who, by the way, is quite as active now as some young men, says one day several years ago while he was down in a well twenty feet deep, tamping a fourteen-inch hole in the rock bottom, and when he had tamped about ten inches the powder ignited, blowing the iron rod through his hand, taking the skin with it, beside filling his arms and face full of powder, burning and almost blinding him. He was immediately drawn out of the well and carried about fifty yards to a house, and as he reached the house the iron rod which he had been using in the well fell in a potato patch close by, where a couple of hands were at work. There is no telling how high that pin went. It could be heard whizzing through the air some time before it struck the ground.

Grateful Women.

None receive so much benefit and none are so profoundly grateful as those who are cured of chronic diseases by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chronic liver, indigestion, enlarged liver, constipation, nervous debility, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and carelessness, all readily removed by these Pills. —Concord.

The Wheeling Register gives an account of a woman who "had lauded herself in the Eighth ward."

We don't think we ever met a verb that we was so taken with at first sight. There is something very winning about it. I laudatum, thou laudamur, he laudamus, we laudamur, you laudamur, they laudamur. O for one hour of Richard Grant White! —Albany Journal.

Fair Warning from a Reliable Warner.

Don't neglect your health when Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure will surely preserve it.

They had just been married.

He seized her hand, and said, in a low, tremulous voice: "It was your innate modesty and apparent indifference, dear old Sallie, that made me register a vow to marry you at all hazards." "Yes," she sighed, "but I slipped up on three or four of the most eligible young men in town before I found this out."

FLYER'S EXTRACT OF TAN AND WILD CHERRY has been used for twenty years, and during that time has saved many valuable lives. Do not neglect a cough or cold until it is too late.

For the excellent remedy, and for the cure, will be convinced of its merits. Chronic Coughs, and even Consumptions, are cured by following the directions. Every bottle is warranted to give satisfaction. Prepared by Dr. Emmert Proprietary Co., Chicago, Ill., a very reliable firm, and sold by all good druggists.

Where you come across a weary-looking, vanquished man or woman, who has just been in the matter, places a hand upon the stomach region and says, "Oh, I feel such a weary slumping, and 'goneness' here, roll up this, and you will either be renewed or shortly die. It is a case of general debility and 'breaking down,' beginning at the stomach, and the proper treatment is Dr. HOLMAN'S LIVER AND BILE SYRUP."

UNCLE SAM'S CONDITION POWDERS are recommended by physicians, and are used by all the best horse and cattle medicine men. If the animal is Scraggy, Spiritless, or has no appetite, these Powders are an excellent remedy, and every owner of stock will do well to try them. They are prepared by the Holman Proprietary Co., Chicago, Ill., a very reliable firm, and sold by all good druggists.

For dyspepsia, indigestion, depression of spirits and general debility in their various forms, also as a preventive against fever and acute and chronic inflammation of the stomach, the Holman's Liver and Bile Syrup is the best remedy.
